VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1867. NO. 236.

THE SENTINEL.

WM E. PELL, Proprietor.

GENERAL SICKLES' ORDER FOR REGISTRATION.

HEADQUARTERS 2D MILITARY DISTRICT, CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.

General Orders, No. 18.

1. On the 3d Monday of July next, in obedience to the requirements of the act of Congress, passed March 23, 1867, the Commanding General will proceed and cause to be made a registration of the male citizens of the United States, 21 years of age and upwards, residents of North and South Carolina, not disfranchised for participation in the rebellion.

2. One or more Boards of Registration, consisting of three discreet and qualified persons, to be appointed by the Commanding General, will be organized in each county or city to make and complete the registration, superintend the election to be held thereafter for delegates to a convention to frame a constitution, and make returns to him of the votes, list of voters, and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at such election.

3. The counties in North Carolina and the geographical districts in South Carolina will, for the purpose of registration, be divided into convenient registration precincts, and in each precinct a Board of Registers will, if practicable, be organized. Several places will be designated in each registration precinct where the Board will meet, and citizens, eligible to registration, may go and be registered. The Board of Registers will remain in session two days from sunrise to sunset at each place of meeting.—On the adjournment of the Boards a copy of the list of persons registered will be deposited in a suitable place within the precinct, seven days for the public information, and thereafter the Board will again visit every precinct and revise the list of voters, hear objections from citizens as to any adjudication made, and register any person who may have been unable, by reason of illness or other good and sufficient cause, to attend the first session of the Board.

4. All persons appointed to make the said registration of voters, and to conduct said election, will be required, before entering on their duties, to take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2d, 1862, entitled, "An act to prescribe the oath of office," and if any person shall falsely take such oath, he, if convicted, shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by law for wilful perjury. The form of the oath is hereinafter prescribed, as follows:

I, A. B., do solemnly swear or affirm that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; I have neither sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise, the functions of any office whatever under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or constitution within the United States hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear that to the best of my knowledge and ability I will support, aid and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully perform the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter. So help me God.

5. Members of the Boards of Registration will be allowed as compensation $4 per day for each day actually and necessarily employed in the performance of their duties, and ten cents a mile for each mile traveled on duty, and officers of the army detailed for such duty will be paid the per diem and mileage allowed for attendance on Courts martial.

6. Any citizen desiring to serve as a member of the Board may forward his application to these headquarters. No application will be considered unless accompanied by a written recommendation, signed by either the Provisional Governor of the State, a District or Circuit Judge of the United States Court, a Collector or other principal officer of Customs or of Internal Revenue, the Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, or the commanding officer of a military post within which the applicant resides, certifying the applicant to be a fit person to receive the appointment.

7. It is essential that every Board should be composed of persons of recognized consideration and worth, fairly representing the population, and in whose impartiality and capacity the body of voters in the vicinage may have just reliance.

8. The boundaries of the precincts for registration, in the several places within each precinct where the Board will meet, the day or days on which the Board will meet in each precinct, and also such regulations as may be necessary for the government of registers and inspectors of elections in the discharge of their duties and to insure the accuracy and completeness of the registration, will be duly published for general information.

9. Post Commanders will report without delay upon the most expedient division of the territory within their commands into registration precincts, having reference, when practicable, to existing laws and customs establishing the usual voting places, and keeping in view the importance of affording ample facilities for registration with the least interruption of the ordinary avocations of the people.

By command of Major-General
D. E. SICKLES.

PEAT IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.—A new and important branch of Southern industry is developing in the swamps of North Carolina and Virginia from which large quantities of peat are now extracted. In the Dismal Swamp peat can be manufactured at $1.50 per ton, which now costs $6 in New York. Hitherto the great difficulty in making peat serviceable was its great bulk, but this objection has been overcome by newly patented compressing machinery, which reduces a ton of peat to ninety-four cubic feet, or a third more than a ton of coal, which contains sixty cubic feet. Peat generates steam faster than coal, and is now extensively used in the manufacturing districts of the New England States, principally for smelting purposes. It is more economical than coal, as it leaves a residue of ashes which contain no clinkers, and these ashes are as available as those of wood for fertilizing purposes. In grate fires it gives a mellow glow, intense heat and but little smoke. The peat beds in some of the Southern States must be as inexhaustible as the coal fields of England, and are not nearly so expensive to work.—New York Post.

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1867.

HOW THE MATTER STANDS.

We have repeatedly stated that if we could have any reliable, authentic assurance, that those men at the South, who style themselves "Republicans," and who affect to consider themselves, (without warrant in a majority of cases,) peculiarly entitled to control the work of re-construction and especially acceptable to Congress, would content themselves with the simple carrying out of the Acts of that body,—nothing less and nothing more,—we, for one, would cease to contest their pretensions. So far, from there being any such assurance held out, however, the indications multiply that the "little fingers" of these men are "thicker than the loins" of Congress. The purpose is manifest and palpable, so far as this State is concerned, to inaugurate Brownlowism in North Carolina, with all its degrading penalities and proscriptions, its lawlessness and turbulence, its political wrongs and its social acerbities. They would not hesitate, in our opinion, to confiscate property by State legislation, if it were of practicable accomplishment. We do not charge this feeling, by any means, upon all who affiliate with the Radical party in this State, or upon all its leaders, but it is the spirit which possesses some of the more prominent,—prominent, we mean, by reason of their malignity and vindictiveness.

And it is well to bear in mind that these threats are made, not because our people are charged with an unwillingness or refusal to carry out the behests of Congress, in the matter of reconstruction. It is too plain to be denied that our people exhibit a remarkable alacrity to close in with terms, which they believe and hope are to be a finality,—which they have been solemnly assured, whatever violent and insatiate men, like Mr. Mr. Stevens, may say to the contrary, shall be a finality. So general and sincere has been this disposition, that with many it has been called servility, while it has provoked surprise as well as elicited prompt acknowledgment at the hands of the leading Republican press and politicians at the North. Why, then, these menaces? They proceed solely from the fact that the people, in carrying out the requirements of Congress, are not willing to select these men as their agents,—because, in the exercise of whatever discretion is left them under the law, they choose to entrust the work of restoration to men in whose fairness, honesty and charity they have confidence. It is not disloyalty to the government which it is proposed to punish, but disloyalty to the Radical party, as such. It is not the love of Union which is offended, but an unholy lust of power. Let the most rampant secessionist in the State, retaining all his old convictions, but swear allegiance to the "Radical" party, and adopt its shibboleth, and he will be hailed as a man and a brother. Let the most blatant fire eater in the country stop eating coals and eat a little Radical diet, and he will be straightway promoted to high places in the synagogue, to the exclusion of genuine and bona-fide Union men. The fact is, so far as Southern Radicalism is concerned, it is made up almost exclusively of just such material, with here and there a consistent Union man to relieve the monotony of the surface. Who are the leaders of the party in Texas,—in Louisiana,—in Tennessee,—in North Carolina? Why, in this State, such all-the-time Unionists as the editors of the Greensboro Register and some of the Wilmington Republicans are thrown as completely in the shade by the neophytes of Radicalism, the latter-day saints and apostles of the creed, as if they had no existence. The rank vegetation of a moment has altogether hidden and obscured the genuine grain. However, non nostrum tantas componere lites.

While we are not only willing but anxious that the real and consistent Unionists in the State should take the lead in the matter of reconstruction, we can have no affiliation with the "Radical" party organization. As the dominant power in the government, for the time being, it has prescribed certain conditions, with which we must comply, and with which we intend to comply; but we are neither in love with those conditions or enamored of the men who have forced them upon us. We have been educated in a conservative school, and we can have no affinities with a party, whose tendencies are not to conserve but to destroy. We should have to ignore the teachings of a life-time, to coalesce with a faction that has no regard for constitutional guarantees and no respect for the precedents of law,—that has usurped arbitrary powers,—that has established martial law in a time of peace,—that threatens to over-ride the Judicial and Executive departments of the government, and that has annihilated all the legitimate reserved rights of the States.—What we say of ourselves, we can say of the mass of our people. They will do everything proper in their power to secure harmony and Union, but they will not voluntarily be Radicalized.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON.—A seemingly well-authenticated rumor now prevails in the City that President Johnson will certainly visit Raleigh, in the course of ten days, for the purpose of being present on the occasion of laying the corner stone of the monument over the grave of his father. We shall doubtless be able, to-morrow, to announce, with greater confidence, what reliance is to be placed in the rumor.

Suicides are so frequent in St. Louis as to attract no attention.

AFFAIRS IN RICHMOND—HORACE GREELEY.

We did Gen. Schofield injustice in our allusion, on yesterday, to the arrest of the Boston incendiary, Haywood, in Richmond. We most cheerfully correct the error into which we were led. It seems that although Hay wood was arrested by the Mayor, it was done at the instance, in a measure, of Gen. Schofield himself. It is further authoritatively announced that the commanding General is determined that the spirit of lawlessness and insubordination, which has manifested itself, shall be put down, and that the peace and quiet of the city shall be preserved, if his soldiers have to shed blood to effect it.

We are also pleased to see that Gen. Schofield has revoked the order of Gen. Wilcox, prohibiting the lecture of Mr. H. Rives Pollard, in Lynchburg. He could'nt have done a wiser thing. Pollard will now quietly subside and lose the factitious importance into which he has been elevated by the action of the military authorities.—But more than this, Gen. Schofield has thus vindicated the liberty of speech, which is a very different thing from license of speech.

Horace Greely is still in Richmond, and has been the recipient of much attention.—His unceasing demand for justice to Mr. Davis has made many a Southern heart warm to him, despite his party affiliations, and the nature of his present mission to Richmond entitles him to the kindest courtesies and most grateful regards of our people.

We are glad to see that Mr. Greeley has availed himself of his visit to Richmond to give the colored people of that City, what they so sadly need at present, some sagacious and practical advice, in person. The sentiments which he uttered upon the occasion, an abstract of which is given in the papers of the City, are creditable alike to his head and heart. We trust they may have good effect:

"Mr. Greeley said that his visit to the church was altogether an unexpected one. He came in with Judge Underwood. During the day he had heard various rumors of a riot, but hoped that they were groundless. He then proceeded to give the negroes much wholesome advice, which was received pleasantly, and, we trust, will have good effect. He advised them by all means to keep clear of crowds, not to engage in exciting discussions; not even to assemble in gangs of twenty men or less, but during the day to pursue their daily avocations as usual; for, said he, if you have a riot in this city, it will have an injurious effect in places where your friends are not as strong as they are in the City of Richmond. It will be at once telegraphed all over the world, and will greatly damage your friends and your cause in other places. He had been called the friend of the colored man. He was no more the friend of the colored man than of the white—he was the friend of the oppressed of all sections, irrespective of color—he felt for all alike. When the news of the assassination of Lincoln was flashed over the wires, and the people of the North were greatly incensed, he felt for those of the South, who were wrongfully charged with complicity in that murder. He was the friend of the oppressed of all nations—humanity was among the first lessons that he had learned, and he had never forgotten it. He again counselled the negroes to keep quiet—to commit no act of lawlessness, but strictly to obey each and every law, and trust to time and the Giver of all Good at last to set all things right. He concluded by conjuring them to be moderate in triumph as they had been patient in suffering."

"NO CHEERS."—Forney's spirit still lingers over and pervades the columns of the Washington Chronicle, though Forney's precious person is at the Paris Exposition.—We stated, on yesterday, that the press of the whole country, North and South, so far as we had been able to see, had joined in indignant reprobation of Underwood's late infamous harangue from the bench. Forney's substitute, however,—breathing the odor which Forney leaves behind,—forms an exception. He pronounces the "charge" "manly, patriotic and unequivocal." Forney's mantle has fallen on fitting shoulders,—as is evidenced not only in the foregoing instance, but in the following:

The Chronicle seizes upon the fact that few indications of enthusiasm or approval greeted the dull platitudes of Senator Wilson, upon the occasion of his recent speech in this city, and forthwith proclaims that it furnishes painful testimony of the intolerance which yet rules in the South, and affords positive evidence that it is not yet safe to leave the wards of the nation in the hands and at the mercy of their old masters! This is full as logical a sequence as that of the Arkansas orator, who claimed the explosion of a steamboat boiler to be positive evidence of the depravity of human nature.

But the "substitute" is green and behind the times. Conway got up a much better story than this of the Chronicle's. He wrote to the Tribune that the meeting of colored people here, which was addressed by Gov. Worth and Messrs. Battle and Gales, was a most egregious failure, that they utterly failed to elicit the semblance of "cheers," but that there was a unanimous "showing of hands" in favor of the Republican party; and the Standard said the same thing, while Conway's and Mr. Wilson's visits to Raleigh were depicted as great colored ovations. Senator Wilson was "cheered" at the cars, "cheered" at the Hotel, and almost "cheered" at every curb-stone, according to that paper. Who is right, among all these contrariant gentry?—"You pays your money, and you can take your choice!"

PEACE IN EUROPE.—Amid the great events transpiring in our own country, most of our people, perhaps, do not properly appreciate the vast importance, even to ourselves here in the South, of the announcement made by the telegraph, on yesterday, that the Peace Conference in London, just adjourned, has settled satisfactorily and peaceably the late complications between France and Prussia, and that the war-cloud, for a while, at least, has disappeared from the European horizon. A war in Europe, at the present time, could not have had other than a most disastrous effect upon the productive gains of the South. For this reason, and in the interests of humanity, we rejoice that it has been averted.

COMPLIMENT TO A YOUNG NORTH CAROLINIAN.—The Galveston (Texas) News states that Colonel John Kerr Connelly, of that city, has been invited to deliver the annual address before the Literary Societies of Baylor University, Texas, on the 12th. of June next. Col. Connelly will be remembered as the galiant commandant of the 35th. Regiment North Carolina Infantry. His many friends will read with pleasure the following compliment from the Galveston News. It says:

"We cannot let the occasion pass without tendering our congratulation to Col. Connelly upon being the recipient of so delicate and marked a compliment; and also expressing our high sense of gratification, that one of Galveston's most gifted sons should have been selected for the performance of this office. A happier choice could not have been made. Col. Connelly has given evidence of extraordinary talent and ability; and being a close student and an exemplary gentleman, justly bears the reputation of a soldier and scholar, an orator and a statesman. In his successful defence of Dupre, at Houston, in the recent trial for murder, his speech is said to have been a master piece, electrifying all who heard it, and calling forth lond applause, even from the jury. His recent success also in a similar case, in this city, has fixed his reputation as a forcible speaker, and skilful and successful criminal lawyer."

THE LATE disturbances in Richmond, and the cropping out of other lawless indications among the blacks, in other quarters,—the legitimate fruits of ultra-Radical missionary incendiarism,—are beginning to open the eyes of people at the North. See the significant article, in another column, from the New York Herald.

We have received the following, with a request for its publication, with which request we cheerfully comply:

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., April 24th. 1867.

Ex-Governors Wise of Virginia, and Vance of North Carolina, and Rev. Henry Williams, Jr., of Petersburg, Va.

SIRS: We, the undersigned, colored citizens of North Carolina, of the Counties of Edgecombe and Nash, being fully impressed with the great importance of our present political action to the future and permanent prosperity and happiness of our country, desire the advice and counsel of our most experienced and faithful statesmen.

We, therefore, respectfully request that you two Ex-Governors, and the Rev. Henry Williams, Jr., consent to address us at Rocky Mount, at such time as you may deem best, upon the political situation of the country. We would suggest that Saturday, the 8th of June, be fixed upon as the day for the meeting. An early reply is solicited through the public press.

[From a Washington Telegram to the Tribune.]

"From the present indications it is not improbable that the expenditures of the War Department will be immensely in excess of the estimates made for that purpose. The requisitions of the War Department for Quartermaster's service, Pay and subsistence Departments, miscellaneous service, and Freedmen's Bureau, since the 1st of March and up to this date, two months and seven days, amount to $25,933,805 87, which, however, includes $1,304,711,26, the amount found due the State of Pennsylvania for expenses during the rebellion, as covered into the Treasury as her quota of direct tax.—This does not include $400,000 required for the Pay Department, upon which no warrant has been issued. From this it appears that the expenses of the War Department for the fiscal year will be from $120,000,000 to $150,000,000, or five to six times as much as the estimated expenses. There is reason to fear that the large falling off in our revenues will render it impossible for the Secretary of the Treasury to prevent a very considerable increase of the public debt, if these requisitions are an indication of those which are to follow, and it is very certain that under existing circumstances, Mr. McCulloch does not feel at liberty to borrow, and it is understood that, inasmuch as the payments for interest this month are very heavy, he will recommend that the Secretary of War suspend payments of bounties for the present, if not until Congress shall make special provision for them."

And so we are again saddled with war expenses, and war embarrassments of the Treasury, in time of profound peace! Why is it that the army expenditures for the year bid fair to be five or six times as great as the estimates? What has happened since the Secretary of War, at the opening of Congress, last December, submitted his estimates for the year? What is it which he did not foresee, but which, having happened, causes the army expenses to mount up to such startling and unexpected figures? It is the passage of the Reconstruction acts, the putting of ten large States under martial law, and supplying troops to enforce it throughout that vast area.—N. Y. World.

A CASE of very considerable importance engaged the attention of the Superior Court here during the last four days of its session last week—Maxwell vs. McDowell. The point involved was fraud in the execution of a deed, made by a debtor who subsequently fled the country. It had been pending since 1856, and the value of the land in question and the costs accumulated rendered the amount a large one. After a thorough investigation of three days, and the most laborious, elaborate and eloquent argument by Messrs. Wilson, Boyden, Osborne and Vance, that has been witnessed in our courts for many years, the case was given to the jury on Saturday at noon. The jury hung until near midnight, when they were discharged by his Honor Judge Gilliam without a verdict.—Charlotte Times.

Our readers are, of course, curious to know what has been the result, so far, of throwing the cars open to the colored people.—As far as we have been able to learn, there was comparatively little travel on the cars on Sunday, by either blacks or whites, until the latter part of the afternoon, and then they were crowded with negroes. It was common during the day to see the inside occupied by a few freedmen, while white people stood on the platform.—Charleston Mercury.

During a late debate in the English House of Commons, Sir H. Verney said that an American General under the Gallery had informed a member that, though flogging was against the United States Articles of War, yet he himself "had flogged men over and over again."

From the New York Herald.

THE POOR SOUTH AND ITS DOCTORS.

The poor South! It is in a very sick, unhappy and perplexed condition. It is the victim of too much treatment—too many prescriptions, purges, blisters and vomits.—Self-constituted doctors, quacks and unskilful practioners in numbers are pursuing a course more likely to kill than cure. It is in a similar condition to New York, with our corrupt and unscrupulous city government and politicians, with our over officious and arbitrary police authorities, and with all sorts of political schemes and corrupt jobs with a view to rule and fleece the citizens. Power, party and the spoils, and not the public interests, are the objects in view.

Our correspondents in the South and the Southern press give us a picture of the mischief which such political doctors as Wilson and Kelly are doing in their voluntary and unacceptable labors, as well as the bad effects of the unskilful and injurious treatment of the Southerners by some of the military authorities. Although the object of Senator Wilson and Mr. Kelly in their mission to the South may be only to win the negro vote for the purpose of strengthening their party—and we are not disposed to impute any other—there is no doubt that they are doing a great deal of harm. One of our correspondents in Virginia says: "Senator Wilson's visit, whether considered in regard to the freedmen or the whites, has had an exceedingly bad effect." It has, perhaps, despite the Senator's intention, forced forward a dangerous topic. Confiscation has become the word of the hour. 'This is at the bottom of all thought; and let the subject be what it may, discussion cannot go to any depth in any circle without touching or stirring this troublesome and permanent thought of the Southern mind—this political cuttlefish that only moves to darken all the waters. Mr. Wilson has used this terrible word confiscation over and over again to intimidate the whites and to encourage the blacks. True, he has promised the Southerners restoration and representation in Congress if they behave well; but he has done so with such threats that these people have become alarmed. Submitting everywhere, with but very few individual exceptions, to the will and laws of Congress, with a determination to carry out fully the reconstruction acts, and with an earnest desire to be good and peaceable citizens, they begin to fear that their fate is uncertain in the hands of a party that seeks only to perpetuate its power at any cost. Mr. Wilson has told them that confiscation and continued exclusion from political privileges and restoration would follow any hardships to the negroes, those tender pets of the radicals. Now, the Southern whites know very well that if it should suit the purpose of the radical party to keep them excluded and to confiscate their lands, it would be easy enough to trump up cases of hardship or to seize upon a few cases that may arise and that are incidental in every community. There are cases of hardship and cruelty in New York, in Boston and everywhere, as there may be in the South, in spite of the general good feeling and good disposition of the mass of the people. The Southerners, knowing, then, how easy it is to seize upon and use such cases for political purposes, naturally feel alarmed and insecure under the threats held over them.

But the evil does not rest here; for the negroes, ignorant as they are, know what confiscation means. They expect the lands will be given to them, according to the radical agrarian programme of Wendell Phillips. They see they are the favored race, and that the whites are treated harshly and with distrust. They begin to think they have a right to the lands of the South, and that their Northern radical friends will give the lands to them. The fearful consequence of all this must be that one race will be arrayed against the other; the farmers and planters will be discouraged to cultivate or improve their property; the negroes will not work for their employers, and a magnificent and productive country will become, like San Domingo and Jamaica, uncultivated and desolate. We shall lose the valuable productions of the South; our burdens will be greatly increased by the prolonged political and social disorganization of the South, and through its inability to bear its portion of taxation. The Southerners will be unable to pay their debts to the North, no one will invest money in that section, commerce will decline and bankruptcy follow. In fact, we might expect to see inaugurated the horrors of civil war—of a war of races like that which occurred in San Domingo. The threatened riot in Richmond on Thursday last is but a premonitory symptom of what may take place, and ought to be an impressive warning. When the materials for a general conflagration are prepared, a little spark will set all in a blaze. This is not an overdrawn picture, fearful as it is, as every thoughtful, unbiased person must acknowledge. Such are the results to which the disorganizing and destructive harangues of Wilson, Kelly and other radicals now in the South are leading us.

Another disturbing element in the South is seen and felt in the conduct of some of the military commanders. These gentlemen seem to have misunderstood the nature of their duties. They act as if the country was still in a state of war and the South under martial law. They do not understand that they are placed in command simply as a police power, to preserve order and to see that the reconstruction acts be not obstructed in execution, and for no other purpose. The acts of Congress have nothing in them to warrant arbitrary doings. Besides, the war being ended and the South not being under martial law, the people have the constitutional right of a free press and freedom of speech and action so long as they do not break the peace. The South was not placed, and ought not to be placed, under the government of despotic military satraps. All these things are wrong, dangerous, and destructive to the principles of our government. They create despair in the Southern mind, and paralyze all the good efforts and energies of the people. If the military commanders do not understand their duties better, General Grant or the War Department should instruct them.

We do not believe the people of the North wish to be vindictive or to oppress the Southerners. We believe they only want security for the future and the early restoration of the South. The constitutional amendment and the reconstruction acts of Congress will bring that. They have no sympathy with disorganizers and agitators, though these be Senators, members of Congress or military Commanders. At least, whatever may be the feeling towards the Southerners, our own welfare, our commercial interests, the peace and unity of the country, the preservation of the principles of the government, and relief from the heavy burdens of taxation all demand that the South should work out its early restoration as prescribed by Congress, uninterrupted by Northern agitators or military despotism.

Dr. Craven, the author of the "Prison Life of Jefferson Davis," has bought property in Savannah, and determined to make that city his permanent home.

The New York Times reports an organization in that city which is prepared for riots in order to prevent the execution of the excise laws—that is, the laws taxing and regulating the sale of liquor.

DEATH OF JUDGE HISE.—The announcement, which will be found in another column, of the death, by his own hand, of Hon. Elijah Hise, will be read with profound regret throughout all parts of Kentucky, and indeed in every portion of the land.

Judge Hise was intellectually one of the first men of the State. Long recognized as such where he was known, his career in the Thirty-ninth Congress gave him a national reputation. A stern and uncompromising devotee at the shrine of principle, his bold and powerful arguments in behalf of constitutional liberty, and his fierce and scathing invective against the venalities and corruption, the perjury and treason of Congress, were as if one of the intellectual giants who reflected glory and honor upon America in her palmiest days had risen from the dead to warn the nation against the ruin upon which it was drifting.

And now Hise is dead!—dead, too, by his own hand, and at a time when the shouts of his friends over his most victorious return to the Congress were yet ringing in his ears! God help the country when at such a moment a great mind like his could be so impressed with its perils as to be thrown off its balance, and in the insanity of despair seek relief beneath the cerements of the tomb. No one may know the terrible anguish through which this strong man passed—this great and pure patriot—before it reached that culmination which unhinged his intellect at the very moment when others in his place would have been filled with the exultation of gratified pride. We can imagine the thought of the desperate condition to which his beloved country was reduced ever pressing with its mountain weight upon the powerful but excitable and impatient mind, until, at last, it was goaded to madness; and then that letter was written, and the rash and fatal deed was done.

"I can do my country no good; and, therefore, I seek relief in the tomb!" That was all the explanation Elijah Hise left behind him. The words are few and simple, but who among his bitterest political enemies can read them without heaving a sigh over the sad fate of the statesman and patriot?—Louisville Courier.

AN UNJUST APPEAL FROM CIVIL TO MILITARY AUTHORITY.—A correspondent of the Marion (S. C.) Star, writing from Bennettsville, S. C., says that at Marlborough District Court last week, the case of the State vs. Dodd, a wagoner from Fayetteville, N. C., indicted for buying stolen cotton, was tried. The jury brought in a verdict of Not Guilty, when Dodd was immediately arrested by an order from Capt. Hawkins, commandant at Darlington C. H., which order was in the possession of one of the prosecutors, all the time of the trial, and when the prosecutor himself was on the stand, testifying in behalf of the State; but failing to convict the accused by a jury of his countrymen, he pulls out this military order, seemingly got up on the expectation of a failure to prove his case. Representations of the true state of affairs have been made to Capt. Hawkins, and it is hoped that he will issue an order immediately for the release of Dodd.—Wil. Dispatch.

REGISTRARS.—We learn that an officer of the United States army is in Wilson, endeavoring to procure the names of men to act as Registrars for the county, under the provisions of the military bills. Thus far he has found neither white or colored men of sufficient intelligence for the position, who can take the required oath. We would suggest to this officer that there are no men in the county who really can fill the position, and it would be well to make the appointments from Northern men of intelligence, who are, of course, not laboring under the disability of the test oath.—Wilson Carolinian.

THE SENTINEL.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Two valuable tracts of land in Johnston County are offered for sale. Apply to James H. Abell or Jas. A. Barnett, Smithfield.

The annual Board of Visitors to the University is announced.

Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern, are on hand, every day, with some enterprising announcement.

The President of the Petersburg Iron Works makes an important announcement to machinists and lumber men.

James D. McIver, Carthage, Moore Co., advertises a suitable reward for certain stolen promissory notes.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Bob Smith, colored, charged with larceny, was returned to the County Court.

Eliza Haywood, colored, charged with a misdemeanor, was fined $5.

Jones Fuller, colored, charged with a misdemeanor, was also fined $5.

MORE BASE BALL.—A correspondent furnishes us with an interesting account of a match-game, which took place at Durham's, on Friday last, between the "Orange Stars" of Chapel Hill, and the "Phœnix," of the former place. We regret that we cannot give the space which the sketch of our correspondent would require. The playing was good and resulted in the success of the "Stars" by handsome odds. The scoring stood: "Stars," 66 runs; "Phœnix," 28 runs.

OUR NEW ARRANGEMENT works admirably, though it involves a heavy amount of labor. The morning edition of the Sentinel, which is issued in time to supply our city subscribers at an early hour and to be sent off by the Northern and Eastern mails, contains the telegraphic dispatches received between 10 o'clock and mid-night the preceding night, while our afternoon edition contains all the news received over the wires up to 2 o'clock, P. M., and is sent off to our Western subscribers.

MIXED with the heavy rain of yesterday, some hail fell in this immediate latitude, though not to a sufficient extent to inflict any injury either on growing crops, vegetables or fruit. We are apprehensive, however, of hearing, from other quarters, of a severe hail-storm which may have done serious damage.

ARREST OF BRYANT.—A telegram was received by the Mayor, on yesterday, announcing the arrest, in Richmond, of J. Q. Bryant, who killed Wiley Sauls in this City last winter. Bryant reached this city, on the Northern train, last evening, in charge of an officer, and was lodged in jail. A reward of $300 for his apprehension had been offered by the Governor.

RANDOLPH COUNTY.—At the May term of Randolph County Court, in session last week, it was determined that the county should subscribe one hundred and fifty thous. and dollars toward the Coal Fields Railroad Extension.

The editor of the Natchitoches Times has had a conversation with a planter of Rapides parish, who expresses himself delighted with the Chinese laborers employed on his place. The gentleman declares that he never saw men better fitted for the cultivation of lands in Louisiana, and that he feels certain of making good crops henceforth.

A writer in the last number of Blackwood upon "Manhood Suffrage, and the Ballot in America," makes the marvellous statement that "General Jackson owed his elevation to his having fought the British at New Orleans, and to having served with distinction in the war against Mexico!"

St. Louis is noted for libel suits and their withdrawal. The Missouri Democrat has just apologized for having said that General Blair appropriated silver ware to his private use while in the army, and General Blair has dismissed a suit he had begun on account of the slander.

A Northern journal, referring to the riot-ous demonstration in Richmond, says, very justly, "the leaders of the mob should be discovered, if possible, and punished severely. Unless the law is strictly executed in all such cases, on blacks and whites alike, we may look for many such lawless acts and for deplorable results."

A delegation of Tennesseeans, headed by Colonel Samuel Tate, of Memphis, have arrived in Washington, for the purpose of urging the President to send regular troops to that State to preserve the peace, which they represent to be threatened by the organization of Governor Brownlow's militia.

In Middle Georgia people have walked twenty miles for a peck of corn meal.

HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The Richmond Whig gives the following interesting description of the incidents attending Mr. Davis' arrival in Richmond:

ARRIVAL AT RICHMOND.

Long before the arrival of the Sylvester at Rocketts a detachment of the Eleventh U. S. Infantry, under Major D. M. Vance, consisting of thirty-five men, were placed in position so as to guard all the approaches to the wharf, with orders to permit no one, except persons having special permission, to pass. As a consequence, the number who gained admittance was limited, consisting of reporters, military and Government officers and a few civilians. On Church Hill there was a crowd of persons, and in fact at every commanding point around the people congregated in large numbers.

At 5 o'clock a detachment of the Fifth U. S. Artillery, mounted as cavalry, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Dupont, rode down and took positions in front of the landing. Although the Sylvester was expected at 4½ o'clock, she did not round the turn below Rocketts until 5½ o'clock, when everybody rushed to and fro, thinking that by a change of base they could obtain a more eligible standing place.

In a few minutes Captain Gifford brought his boat gracefully up to the wharf, and the presence of Judge Ould, who stood near the aft gangway, assured those who knew him that Mr. Davis was on board. The crowd simultaneously rushed in that direction, and their curiosity was soon gratified by the appearance of Mrs. Davis, on the arm of the Hon. James Lyons, who escorted her to his carriage, when himself, Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Davis were driven to the Spotswood. They were immediately followed by Mr. Davis, General Burton, Dr. Cooper, Judge Ould and Burton N. Harrison. Mr. Davis, General Burton, Dr. Cooper and Mr. Harrison took seats in one of Mr. Ledley's open carriages. An artilleryman took a seat by the driver, when the party moved off, followed immediately by the escort of mounted soldiers above mentioned. The route taken was up the dock to Eighteenth street, thence up Main to the Spotswood, where rooms had been prepared for the distinguished prisoner.

ALONG THE STREET.

While there were crowds of men, women and children all along the route who were anxiously seeking an opportunity to see Mr. Davis, no demonstrations worthy of special notice were made, except that here and there a hat was raised, and that the countenances of all exhibited a profound personal respect and an earnest sympathy with sufferings that had been endured and perils and trials yet to be encountered.

ARRIVAL AT THE HOTEL.

Up to half-past five o'clock the assemblage in and around the Spotswood was comparatively small, but after that hour, a report having spread that the military were in waiting at Rocketts and the contents of a telegram received at the hotel, that the John Sylvester had left City Point at two o'clock, P. M., with Mr. Davis on board, having become known on the street, people began to gather rapidly around the hotel and on both sides of the street along the whole block, and especially around the private entrance of the hotel. The crowd consisted of whites and negroes in about equal numbers, but there was no disorder or ebullition of feeling. There was, however, among the white people, much earnest consultation, and it was agreed that there should be no manifestation, such as cheering, but the feeling of nearly all present could not be mistaken.

As the hour of six approached the crowd began to increase, and when, at a little before six o'clock, a squad of police formed themselves in two lines stretching from the private entrance of the hotel across the sidewalk and out into the street, the white people began to press towards that point, all the while however acting in the most orderly and decorous manner. A little after six a cry arose—"Here he is!" "Here he is!" and the carriage containing the great prisoner was seen coming up Main street at a rapid trot, and in a few minutes it drew up at the private entrance and immediately General Burton got out, followed by Mr. Davis, and they entered the hotel, walking rapidly, Mr. Davis on the right hand of the General. Just as the carriage approached the entrance there was a cry of "Hats off!" and heads were generally uncovered, but there were no cheers, no word spoken, for Mr. Davis' friends knew that any manifestation in the way of applause could do no good and would be disagreeable to him.—Mr. Davis, on getting out of the carriage, as we have said, walked rapidly side by side with General Burton, and the moment he entered the hotel door it was closed. From the moment he left the carriage until he entered the hotel he did not look around. He seemed unconscious of the presence of the crowd, not looking to the right or to the left. He was pale, very pale, his hair much grayer than when we last saw him, and his cheek thin and furrowed, and one could see that sickness and sadness and suffering had cast their dark shadow over him, and yet there were traces of that strength of soul which strives to battle with misfortune and which the face of the highly intellectual man so strongly exhibits. It was impossible to look on him without being deeply moved and many a man moved away after gazing into that noble and wasted face with the tear in the corner of his eye.

Soon as Mr. Davis entered the hotel the troop of mounted artillery proceeded up Main Maistreetto the corner of Seventh and there halted and dismounted, but, in a few moments afterwards, all being quiet, they marched off.

Poetry is a dangerous indulgence. The New York Tribune published the other day that famous lyric, "Oh, I'm a Good Old Rebel," and asked the World for its opinion on the verses. That journal does not compliment the effusion and thinks the author unfit to be represented in Congress—of which, by the way, there seems to be no immediate danger. It then asks the Tribune several important questions—among them is the following:

"If treasonable song writing is a good reason for distranchisement, what has the Tribune to say against the execution of the sentence against its own editor? Suppose the Charleston fire companies, the other day, as they lifted their hats to the old flag by General Sickles' order, had sung snatches from the Tribune's celebrated lyric on the national emblem, one company giving these lines:

"All hail the floating lie!
The stars grow pale and dim,
The stripes are bloody scars—
A lie the flaunting hymn."

Another these:

"Tear down the flaunting lie!
Half-mast the starry flag!
Insult no sunny sky
With hate's polluted rag!
Destroy it ye who can!
Deep sink it in the waves!"

This brings to mind the famous poem by HOLDEN on the death of Mr. CALHOUN, and justifies our opinion that poetry is a dangerous indulgence for politicians.—Norfolk Virginian.

Tuesday Afternoon Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 14.

A petition of Irish citizens will be presented to the Cabinet to-day by the President, requesting the Government's intercession in behalf of Fenians who claim citizenship.

Considerable interest is attached to the amended Mississippi bill, and strong hopes are entertained that the Supreme Court will take steps restraining Gen. Ord from measures which will expose the State property to waste. It is understood that the question will not be argued further—the whole ground having been covered by previous debate. That the amended bill has weight, is inferred from the fact that it was not decided on yesterday.

BALTIMORE, May 14.

The Radical State Convention, half black, assembled here to-day. Considerable interest is manifested. But there are no indications of disorder.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

BROOKLYN, May 14.

Archer's Store house at the Van Dyke Street, was struck by lightning to-day, and burned, including $300,000 worth saltpetre and nitrate of soda. The saltpetre exploded setting fire to a schooner adjacent the building. Two boys jumped over board, one of whom was drowned.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, May 14.

Gen. Schofield has ordered the Lincoln mounted guard, colored, to disband and prohibited their parade or drill.

Horace Greely and Gerritt Smith, who have come on here to sign Mr. Davis' bail bond, are addressing the people at the African Church to-night. The audience is large and about equally divided in color.

Outside of the building is an assemblage nearly as large as the one inside. Mr. Greeley pointed out the obstacles which had impeded reconstruction, commencing with the assassination of Lincoln and coming down to Johnson's policy.—The present most serious obstacle, he thought, was the unwillingness on the part of the Southern people to give the negroes any rights except those they were forced to. This must be corrected, and then there will be peace in the South.

An intimate friend of Mr. Davis says he has no fixed plan for his movements. Mrs. Davis will reside in Norfolk.

The negro laborers in the tobacco warehouses have struck for higher wages. No disturbance has occurred.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 14.

Two important decisions were rendered in the Supreme Court of Louisiana, yesterday. In the case of Wainwright vs. Bridges, the Court held that no recovery can be had of notes given for the purchase of slaves. In the case of Brown vs. Shackleford, the Court holds as previously, that no recovery can be had of notes based on Confederate money. In other words, such money was illegal and of no consideration. And further, that notes signed before the passage of the stamp law do not require stamps to be used as evidence. Hon. Henry Wilson arrived to-day.

FOREIGN.

PARIS, May 14.

M. Monsieur, President of the Corps Legislatiff, has officially announced to that body that the peace of Europe will not be disturbed.

The joint committees of the two Presbyterian General Assemblies of the Old and New School, after a session of a week in New York, agreed upon terms of reunion with remarkable unanimity. These terms are to go before the churches for a year before final action.

The Winsted (Connecticut) "Herald" adds to its "standing heads" that of "Divorces," and inserts the list between the marriages and deaths. [Another phase of applied Radicalism.]

The quantity of tobacco in market yesterday was unprecedentedly large for the season and breaks were held at only three of the warehouses. At Liberty warehouse alone, upwards of a hundred parcels of loose, and forty hogsheads, were sold. The highest price of the day was $64 per cwt.—Lynchburg News.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. FIRST CLASS PROPERTY FOR RENT.

THAT LARGE, COMMODIOUS, AND WELL known Hotel,

"THE METROPOLITAN"

situated in the center of the business portion of Greensboro, N. C., is offered for rent or lease.

Its advantages are many; the outhouses and improvements are in fine condition, and of modern construction. Greensboro is a point at which a well conducted Hotel cannot fail to pay an active manager very handsomely; being at the terminus of the Richmond, Danville and Piedmont Rail Road, about the middle of the N. C. Central Rail Road, in the very centre of the Mining District of N. C.; at a point always remarkable for its flourishing schools and female colleges, and well known as a summer resort, on account of its healthy atmosphere.

The proprietors would prefer renting to some party, who have had experience in conducting a first-class hotel, and to such the terms would be most liberal; at any rate they desire an active and energetic man. The Metropolitan Property being the only Hotel in the central part of town, makes it most desirable, and a competent manager would enjoy a monopoly.

FERTILIZERS
FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 325 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF
Moisture	5.30
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	39.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	50
Insoluble	2.60

The animal matter absorbed 4 3-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

MY CASTLE.

BY FRANCIS DE HAES JANVIER.

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it."—MATTHEW, VII 27.

I built a castle, where the sunny sea
Tossed its bright billows in the summer air;
A noble castle—fashioned nobly,
With lofty towers, and portals wide and fair.

The rarest marbles paved its spacious halls;
Grand arches spanned each ceiling's stately height;
With rich mosaics glowed its paneled walls;
And, through stained windows, poured prismatic light.

I filled it with the choicest works of art
That taste, and skill, and labor, could supply;
With treasures gleaned from every famous mart;
With all the luxury that wealth could buy.

And there, unmindful of the perished past,
Or what in the dim future might betide,
Within the present, beautiful and vast,
I bade my heart be happy—and abide.

But, suddenly, the sky was filled with gloom;
A fierce convulsion shook the thickening air;
And thunder-tones pronounced dread words of doom,
Traced, on the darkness, in the lightning's glare!

The raging ocean, with a fearful swell,
Swept through the tempest deluging the land
And, reeling from its base, my castle fell,—
For I had founded it upon the sand!

The storm was spent—and, with a sullen moan,
Back, from the ruin, rolled the waves once more;—
And sorrow-stricken, I went forth, alone—
A hopeless outcast, on a dreary shore!

THE ENGLISH GANG SYSTEM.

A recent debate in Parliament on the "gang system" discloses some frightful facts with regard to the lowest class of agricultural laborers in England. The gang system is thus briefly described by an exchange:

"In the Fen districts, covering nearly a million acres of the richest land in England, and lying in Lincolnshire, Cambridgeshire, Nottinghamshire, Norfolk, Suffolk, and in parts of the counties of Northampton, Bedford and Rutland, about 7,000 children, from five years of age and upwards, besides persons of both sexes—from fifteen to eighteen years of age—are employed in gangs numbering from fifteen to twenty laborers in each gang, under a master, and in a condition differing from slavery only because it is infinitely worse.

The gang-master is almost an invariably dissolute man, who cannot be steadily employed as a laborer with any decent farmer. In most instances he actually purchases the labor of the children from poor parents; he sells his labor to farmers, pays the gang what he pleases, and puts the profit in his pocket. For seven or eight months in the year these gangs are driven often seven or eight miles in a day to farms, where they work at planting, weeding, picking, stone-gathering, and like labor, from half past five in the morning to seven or right o'clock in the evening. The gang-master is paid by the acre, and he pays the little children from fourpence to sixpence per day, while the older lads and girls receive from nine to fifteen pence. The master, for driving his hands to the field and for keeping them up to their work, which he does with a stick, makes the estimated profit of a pound sterling or thereabouts a week.

There is testimony to show that hundreds of the younger children are carried home in the arms of the older lads every night.—From working breast high in wet grain, many of the children are crippled for life by rheumatism, while others contract the seeds of ague, pleurisy, and consumption. Cases are given where little girls, four years old, have been driven through those long, terrible days of work. The most pathetic pictures presented by Mr. Wilberforce of colonial slave-driving, forty years ago, make the British West Indies seem almost an Arcadia in comparison with the Fen districts in England to-day.

This exhibition, shocking as it is, is by no means the most frightful phase of the gang system. The gangs are under no moral restraint whatever. Oftentimes at night both sexes are huddled together in barns, where, among the older boys and girls, the most shameful scenes naturally follow. Clergymen and other respectable witnesses testified to the Commission of Inquiry that the gang laborers are "beneath morals." They have no consciousness of chastity, and do not know the meaning of the word. Medical directors of infirmaries state that the gang girls, as young as thirteen years, have been brought to them to be confined. Their language and conduct are so depraved that dozens of parish clergymen, surgeons, and respectable laboring people testified to the Commission that the "introduction of any gang labor into a village extinguishes morality."

We refrain from commenting upon the social standing and condition of the grown-up people, resulting, by-and-by, from so many of these children, lads and girls, as survive the stick, the driving, the hard labor, the food which fourpence a day will buy, and the diseases contracted in the damp fields. But, after reading the report, we can appreciate the propriety, and almost courtesy, of the phrase which calls the great mass of the English laborers the "lower" classes, since there is still a substratum that reveals the lowest class conceivable in a Christian country—a class always dwelling far below the social surface, in deep, dark pits, beyond the light of even the commonest civilization."

An expression was very common in the Army of Tennessee, without any one being able to explain how it started. A soldier sends an explanation of it from Warrenton Virginia:

When R.'s brigade of cavalry was first organized it contained some rather excitable individuals, who were accused by Forrest's men of making more use of their spurs than of their swords. The brigade eventually became distinguished for its gallantry, but at the time of which we speak it was a laughing stock, not merely to Forrest's veterans, but to the Yankees themselves. One day, on a train in Mississippi, the rear car was occupied by soldiers cracking their rough jokes upon one another. When their fun was at its height, a very ungainly "reb" with clanking spurs, long uncombed hair, and a general appearance of long disuse of a "biled" shirt, stalked to a window and thrust his carbine out of it. Then he stopped and looked around, as though apprehensive that he was doing something wrong, and inquired "is thar any of R.'s menaboard this shebang?"

No answer. "I say, boys, does any of you belong to R.'s cavalry?" At length some one spoke up, saying: "I belong to R.'s cavalry." "Axin yer pardon, stranger," said the uncouth individual, "my old gun is dirty, and I wanted to clean her out; I'm just gwine to pop a cap. Don't be skeered, honey!"

From this started the taunt so often used to cowards, "lie down, I'm gwine to pop a cap."

A Would-be bride in Dayton, Ohio, aged 61, has sued a gentleman of 70 for breach of promise. She shows one of his letters in which he said he "existed only in her smiles, and that the happiest day of his life would be that on which he should call her his own."

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty-one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4t. section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United states, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United states against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel states," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
